21 aña pasa, reapertura di e refineria a bira realidad

Cu vision, curashi y determinacion Gabinete Oduber a para cortamento di e refineria y a trece Coastal Aruba

Dia 20 di april nos ta recorda cu 21 aña pasa e compania petrolero Coastal Oil Corp. a habri atrobe e refineria na San Nicolas. Despues di un lucha largo pa por determina su destino estatal, casi na entrada di Status Aparte, Aruba a haye confronta cu un sla formal : E refineria Lago cu durante mas cu 60 aña tabata forma parti importante den Aruba su desaroyo economico a dicidi di cera su portanan na Maart 1985. Hecho ta cu e presencia di Lago riba nos isla a contribui grandemente na un crecemento economico substancial. Miles di Arubiano a haya trabao p'asina nan por a cria nan famia honradamente. Tambe miles di trahado for di exterior a bin Aruba pa traha den e refineria y esaki a trece cu ne cu e poblacion a crece drasticamente.

AVP a corta e refineria na pida pida

Despues cu partido AVP a drenta gobierno na December 1985 no a wordo haci ningun intento pa cu reapertura di e refineria y dia 29 di januari 1988 Gabinete Eman a firma cu e compania Hulandes Schotte Sloopwerken B.V. y tambe cu Westcoast pa corta y desmantela e refineria completamente y bende e restonan como hero bieu den exterior.

Pero MEP bao di liderazgo di Sr. Nelson Oduber no a permiti pa e speransa di e pueblo muri sin mas. Asina cu Nel Oduber a asumi responsabilidad como Prome Ministro na februari 1989, el a apunta un team nobo di negociadonan pa asuntonan di refineria y petroleo. Dia 28 di maart 1989, apenas un luna y mey despues di a drenta gobierno, ex-Promer Ministro Nelson Oduber a ricibi representantenan di Coastal Oil Corp. den su despacho. Na april 1989 inspectornan tecnico di Coastal a bin haci inspeccionnan ariba e refineria di Lago. Despues a sigui negociacionnan largo y complica y porfin dia 23 di juni 1989 ambos partido a firma un 'letter of intent'.

Reapertura di refineria a bira realidad

Dia 19 di october 1989 Parlamento di Aruba a aproba e contrato cu Gabinete Oduber a firma cu Coastal y cual contrato a ser firma door di Prome Ministro Nelson Oduber y Sr. Oscar Wyatt. Despues di trabaonan duro y intensivo e reapertura a bira realidad dia 20 di april 1991. Un y tur por corda ainda e alegria cu a reina rond Aruba y na San Nicolas en particular ora cu despues di 6 aña por a bolbe mira huma sali for di e chimineanan di e refineria y alabes lagrimanan di emocion a derama ora cu e acostumbrado pito di e refineria a zona atrobe.

Cu awor despues di 21 aña nos por papia ainda di presencia di un refineria na Aruba ta danki na e hecho cu Gabinete Oduber a para e cortamento di e refineria na 1989. Cu awe tin gobernantenan por biaha den exterior pa entre otro Venezuela, Colombia, Brazil, Merca y negosha cu Pedevesa, Ecopetrol, Petrobras y Petro China pa por logra e siguiente reapertura di e refineria ta danki na e vision, curashi y determinacion di Gabinete Oduber cu a percura pa e prome reapertura bira un realidad 21 aña pasa.

Pues pesey awe ta un dia di reflexion pa un y tur den e pais aki, caminda nos mester recorda tur e trabaonan inmenso cu a ser haci durante e periodo di 1989-1991 pa por a rescata nos di dos pilar economico, esta nos industria petrolero.

Carl Crawford to see Dr. Andrews

Boston Red Sox outfielder Carl Crawford is going to see Dr. James Andrews to have the soreness in his left elbow checked out, a source told ESPN The Magazine senior baseball writer Buster Olney.

Crawford is out indefinitely and not close to returning to action, the source said.

CSNNE.com initially reported that Crawford was consulting with Andrews.

Tuesday, Red Sox manager Bobby Valentine said Crawford would seek a second opinion on the elbow.

Crawford, who also had offseason wrist surgery, has taken some at-bats but has not played the field in extended spring training games. No timetable has been set for when he can resume throwing.

Crawford had returned to Florida on Tuesday night, where he has been rehabbing, Valentine said, after being examined in Boston earlier in the day.

Valentine said he had no other information on the condition of Crawford's elbow other than it was "sore." He added that the elbow remains a cause for concern.

"Until a guy is 100 percent, you always have concern," Valentine said.

At the start of spring training, before the elbow issue had surfaced, the most conservative estimates for when Crawford would be playing for the Red Sox was May 1.

The Red Sox outfield could use some reinforcement with center fielder Jacoby Ellsburyexpected to miss six to eight weeks with a shoulder injury.

Crawford signed a seven-year, $142 million contract with the Red Sox before the 2011 season and had one of the worst years of his career, hitting .255 with 11 home runs and 18 stolen bases.

Metta World Peace suspended for 7

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. -- The NBA responded to Metta World Peace's latest act of aggression with a seven-game suspension that will lighten the Los Angeles Lakers troublemaker's wallet and playoff schedule.

World Peace was suspended on Tuesday for throwing a vicious elbow at Oklahoma City'sJames Harden, keeping the Lakers' starting small forward sidelined for most of the first postseason round.

World Peace was ejected from Sunday's game against the Thunder for striking Harden in the head with the back of his elbow, giving Oklahoma City's top reserve a concussion. The former Ron Artest claimed the blow was an accidental, overzealous celebration of a dunk, yet even Kobe Bryant and his Lakers teammates weren't defending his inexplicable actions.

"It's hard to get into a guy's head and know exactly what happened in that situation," Bryant said. "I haven't really spoken to him about it. You've really got to ask him."

World Peace will miss the Lakers' season finale on Thursday at Sacramento and the Lakers' next six games. The playoffs open Saturday, and Los Angeles is likely to be the Western Conference's third seed -- and Oklahoma City is locked into the No. 2 seed, meaning the clubs could meet right after World Peace's suspension ends in the second round.

He will lose nearly $348,000 in salary if he serves the entire suspension this year. If the Lakers exit the playoffs swiftly, the remainder of the suspension must be served next season.

World Peace still hasn't answered media questions about his actions, but he issued a brief statement on his website, promising to follow up with a podcast.

"I apologize to the Oklahoma City Thunder fans and the OKC organization," World Peace wrote on ronartest.com. "I look foward (sic) to getting back on the floor with my teammates and competing for the Lakers' fans."

Commissioner David Stern alluded to World Peace's lengthy history of on-court altercations and strange behavior in announcing the penalty in a statement. Although Harden appears to be recovering well, he hasn't been cleared to return to the Thunder.

"The concussion suffered by James Harden demonstrates the danger posed by violent acts of this kind, particularly when they are directed at the head area," Stern said in a statement. "We remain committed to taking necessary measures to protect the safety of NBA players, including the imposition of appropriate penalties for players with a history of on-court altercations."

Lakers general manager Mitch Kupchak said the team accepted the latest suspension for World Peace, who has two years left on his contract with Los Angeles.

"His most recent lapse in judgment is not to be condoned or accepted," Kupchak said after praising World Peace as largely a model citizen with the Lakers.

"His actions could have seriously injured another player, and his absence during this suspension will hurt our team as well," Kupchak added. "While we accept the league's decision, we will be supportive of Metta and try to help him be more professional on the court."

The suspension is the third career ban of at least seven games for World Peace, whose rap sheet might not fit on a basketball card at this point.

He got an 86-game suspension in 2004 -- the longest ban for an on-court incident in NBA history -- for jumping into the stands at the Palace of Auburn Hills in the Detroit suburbs to fight fans, and he served a seven-game suspension in 2007 for his no-contest plea on a domestic violence charge.

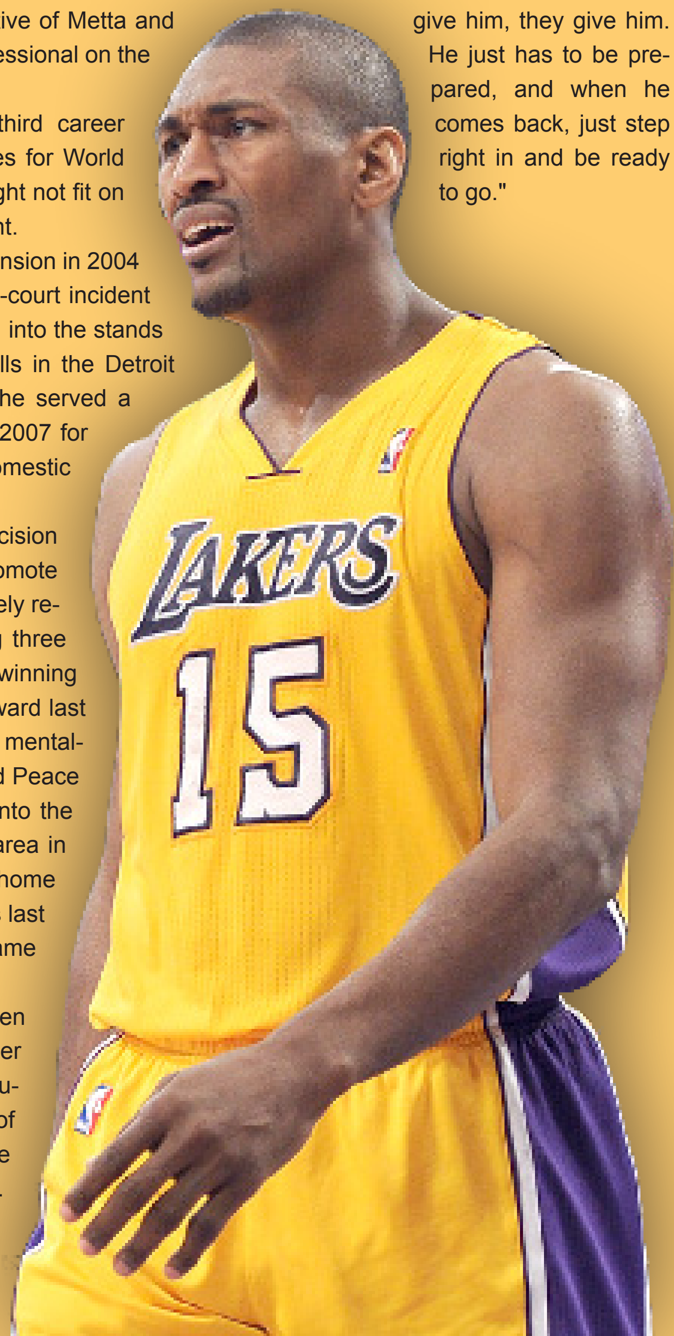

Even before his odd decision to change his name to promote peace last year, he had largely rehabilitated his image during three seasons with the Lakers, winning the NBA's top citizenship award last spring for his charity work in mental-health awareness. Yet World Peace also slammed his forearm into the face of Dallas guard J.J. Barea in the closing minutes of a home playoff loss to the Mavericks last season, earning a one-game postseason suspension.

World Peace leveled Harden moments after dunking over Serge Ibaka and Kevin Durant in the second quarter of the Lakers' double-overtime victory over the Thunder. While pounding his chest with his right arm, World Peace cocked his elbow and threw it at the back and side of Harden's head.

He claimed the elbow was completely accidental in a brief postgame statement, but later acknowledged on Twitter that the blow "looks bad."

World Peace didn't speak to the media after the Lakers' practice Tuesday, heading to the locker room at the moment media members entered the gym at the Lakers' training complex. But Bryant acknowledged the obvious problem for the Lakers, who lose a starter and their defensive stopper right before the postseason.

"It's an unfortunate situation," Bryant said. "James, from what I hear, is OK. As far as Metta goes, he has to focus on himself, and however many games they give him, they give him. He just has to be prepared, and when he comes back, just step right in and be ready to go."

Jose Reyes: No offer from Mets

On his first trip to Citi Field in enemy colors, Jose Reyes said the New York Mets did not make any attempt to re-sign him in the offseason, and that their inaction left him to confront a simple conclusion.

"If they don't make me any offer," the Miami Marlins shortstop said, "that means they don't want me to play here. That's why I play for another team now."

Wearing a black muscle shirt and orange wristbands as he sat in the visitors dugout on Tuesday, hours before the Mets played a video tribute to his nine seasons in New York, Reyes repeatedly told a large circle of reporters that he no longer fretted over his former team's decision to sit out his free-agent courtship.

Reyes maintained throughout the 2011 season that he wanted to remain a Met, even after he rejected general manager Sandy Alderson's attempt to open contract negotiations last June. When asked if he would've stayed with the team that signed him as a teenager in the event it had matched Miami's six-year, $106-million offer, Reyes said: "That's in the past. If I say yes, if I say no, that's not going to change anything. ... I can't say if I was going to stay here or not because they didn't offer anything."

The Mets' decision to let Reyes go was inspired, in part, by the Bernie Madoff scandal and the possibility that the owning Wilpons could lose hundreds of millions of dollars at trial. With that case now settled, and with Mets owners expected to take a relatively negligible financial hit, Reyes was asked if the Mets might've signed him under the existing circumstances.

"It's too late to think about that," he said. "I know they had a kind of problem there. I feel bad and feel sorry for them, but this is a business. I mean, they don't offer anything. That's in the past. I can't think about that anymore. I have a lot of respect for the organization and wish all of the people there the best."

Jeremy Lin gets some work in

GREENBURGH, N.Y. -- For the first time publicly since his injury, Jeremy Lin was seen doing some light jogging and slow-paced basketball moves during New York Knicks practice Wednesday morning.

Lin is in his fourth week of recovery after undergoing surgery to repair a small chronic meniscal tear in his left knee on April 2.

Working with one of the team's trainers and wearing a brace on his left knee, Lin gingerly moved side to side receiving passes on the left and right corners of the foul line and shooting jump-shots. Occasionally, when he got the ball, he would execute a few different dribbling patterns -- some crossovers, some behind-the-backs -- leading into a jump-shot. Afterward, he took some free throws and then did slight knee-ups from one end of the court to the other.

Overall, Lin's basketball moves looked sharp, but he moved very methodically and was hardly getting off the ground. At one point, he almost tripped over himself moving side-to-side, which caused him to be even more cautious.

"He's starting to smell the gym a little bit more now, which is great," Knicks coach Mike Woodson said. "I asked him yesterday how he felt after getting out running a little bit, and he said he felt pretty good. But we've got to put him through drills where he's cutting and things of that nature just to make sure that the knee doesn't swell up and he's not physically sore. I mean, there's going to be some soreness, but we've got to make sure that when he steps back out on the floor, he's able to play basketball."

Woodson hinted that the best-case scenario is Lin returning for the conference semifinals, which has been the likely timetable since his operation. The recovery was considered six weeks.

"I'd like to think if we're able to get out of this first round, he should be ready for the second round, I would think," Woodson said. "But that's not for me to determine. He's got to come to us, along with the doctors, and say that the knee feels fine and he's confident that he can cut and do things that he once did. Then, we'll put him back in uniform."

Yu Darvish blanks Yanks for 8-plus as 10-K night keys Rangers

ARLINGTON, Texas -- Yu Darvish is getting better each time out for the Texas Rangers.

The Japanese standout may already be getting to a point when he will have a hard time topping himself, after striking out 10 and pitching into the ninth inning of a 2-0 victory over the New York Yankees on Tuesday night.

"After my last start, I mentioned my command is starting to come together. Stuff-wise, there wasn't much difference," Darvish said through his interpreter. "I still like to think that there's still more in me."

Ian Kinsler put the Rangers ahead to stay when he led off the first with a deep homer to left-center off Hiroki Kuroda (1-3), who limited Texas to two runs and five hits over 6 2/3 innings.

In only his fourth major league start, and the seventh MLB matchup of Japanese starters, Darvish (3-0) worked out of some early jams and got through 8 1/3 scoreless innings even while allowing seven hits.

Effective with his large array of pitches, including a fastball in the upper 90s and several biting breaking balls, the 25-year-old right-hander had a season-low two walks, and the 10 strikeouts were the most by a Texas pitcher this season. "He just keeps getting better every time he takes the ball. Tonight, he used everything he had, and he was effective, very effective. He's getting more and more comfortable," manager Ron Washington said. "He was pounding the strike zone. That's what you have to do against that team. He threw everything but the kitchen sink at them."

Washington was going to give him a chance to finish the game but pulled Darvish after Nick Swisher's one-out single on his 119th pitch, his 82nd strike.

Joe Nathan needed only one pitch to coax a game-ending double-play grounder by Raul Ibanez. It was his fifth save in six chances, closing out the Rangers' first shutout victory over the Yankees since Aug. 16, 2000.

The 37-year-old Kuroda, a righty in his fifth season in the majors, struck out five and walked one. Of the Rangers' other 15 outs against him, 12 came on grounders and there were two popups.

But he was still outpitched by Darvish, who had the longest scoreless outing by a Rangers pitcher against New York since Bob Tewksbury's complete game shutout in July 1995.

"You hear a lot of guys get hyped and he was everything that you'd heard," Yankees first basemanMark Teixeira said. "We had a gameplan to make him throw strikes, and he definitely did that. If you tried to be patient you're down 0-1, 0-2. If you tried to be aggressive every pitch seemed like it started in the zone, then moved out of the zone."

The Yankees had the bases loaded with no outs in the third after Derek Jeterreached on a bunt single. Darvish initially failed to field the ball, apparently expecting someone else to get it.

But Darvish then got Curtis Granderson out on a called third strike before Alex Rodriguez grounded into an inning-ending double play.

"He had a full head of steam after that," Rangers designated hitter Michael Young said. "He started letting his fastball go late in the game, but he didn't sacrifice command for stuff. He was still locating well even though he started throwing harder."

Another sellout crowd at Rangers Ballpark broke into cheers of

"Yuuuuuu!" that are already becoming quite routine after Granderson struck out, and again when third baseman Adrian Beltre fielded A-Rod's grounder near the bag, stepped on it and threw across the diamond.

Darvish walked off the mound clapping his hand on his glove while watching the replay on the huge video board.

"In that situation I thought to myself, this inning giving up one run or two runs, that was OK," he said. "Somehow I have to get Curtis Granderson out. ... Somehow, I just wanted (Rodriguez) to hit the ball on the ground."

After Robinson Cano hit a leadoff double in the fourth, Darvish needed only seven pitches to get out of that inning. Teixeira and Swisher both struck out swinging on three pitches before Ibanez grounded out on the first pitch he saw.

Darvish struck out the side in the seventh, getting Jeter on a called strike for the third out.

"He's good. You have to give credit to the way he pitched," Cano said. "He didn't miss any pitch over the plate."

The last matchup of Japanese-born starters was July 22, 2010, when Kuroda threw eight scoreless innings for the Los Angeles Dodgers in a 2-0 win over the Mets and Hisanori Takahashi.

Darvish made his major league debut two weeks ago at Rangers Ballpark, allowing five runs in the first two innings but getting the win in an 11-5 victory over Seattle. Since those first two innings, he has allowed only two earned runs over 24 innings.

"My first outing, I got a standing ovation, but obviously wasn't really satisfied with the way I pitched," Darvish said. "Tonight, I was very appreciative."

Larry Brown talks Bobcats time

It was only a few years ago that Larry Brown had the Bobcats in the playoffs, but Charlotte is poised to become the worst team in league history and the coach had some thoughts Wednesday on what went wrong during his tenure there.

Brown said on "The Dan Patrick Show" that he experienced communication problems with team owner Michael Jordan and then was devastated when he was fired.

"It's one thing for me to get fired, but I have four or five assistants and they're out there not able to work," said the 71-year-old Brown, who was named SMU coach this week. "And it was the worst. And when your hero fires you... I just couldn't believe it. You know I love the guy, think he's brilliant, but he's around people who don't have a clue. And they won't challenge him. And the more you challenge him, the more you get from him.

"I was sick about it. I haven't spoken to him since. I don't like seeing what's going on."

In 2009-10, Brown guided the Bobcats to a 44-38 record and their only playoff appearance. After a slow start the next season, Jordan replaced Brown with Paul Silas. That team finished 34-48.

"I'm sick about it because we made the playoffs the first time they ever made the playoffs. We got rid of Raymond Felton without getting anything back -- one of the greatest kids I ever coached in my life. We got rid of Tyson Chandler who only played 50 games or so for us." Jordan has been blasted for some of his personnel moves over the years, infamously drafting high schooler Kwame Brown No. 1 when he was in the Washington Wizards' front office.

Carta habri na mi coleganan den enseñansa

Apreciabel colega,

Awe mi ta kita mi pechi sindical y mi ta dirigi mi mes na bo persona como colega maestro di scol.

Na januari gobierno a institui un comision pa desaroya un sistema salarial nobo di enseñansa. Un "stuurgroep",consistiendo di presidente di sindicato di maestro SIMAR, representante di departamento di enseñansa y representante di ministerio di enseñansa tin cu guia proceso. Diferente accion ya a tuma lugar, entre otro nan a traha riba 'functiebeschrijving" di tur funcion cu tin den enseñansa. Tur esaki den cooperacion cu representantenan di e directivanan di scol. E "beschrijving" nan aki mester a bay via e directivanan di scol pa e cabesante y/o managernan duna nan opinion y/o comentarionan riba e contenido.

Aki ta unda e rabo di e porco ta krul.

Mi a haci un sondeo pa medio di pregunta na diferente colega y mi a bin constata cu hopi ta esnan cu no ta na haltura di e desaroyo aki y no a involucra esnan den klas of cu tin di haci cu e function mes pa duna opinion/ comentario.

E idea tabata ta pa tur esnan cu ta traha den enseñansa ta na haltura y involucra den e proceso. Ken mihor cu esnan cu ta eherce e funcion pa duna un discripcion di esaki?

Manera nos tur sa, tin hopi discrepancia den e salarionan den enseñansa. Tin hopi docente den schaal robes. Tin cu ta haci e mesun trabou, cu e mesun estudio y tin salario diferente. Mi a lesa tur e "functiebeschrijving" nan. Mi no por duna remarca ribatur, pero si riba esunnan di enseñansa preparatorio y basico.

Mi colega den e tipo di enseñansa aki, abo a lesa esakinan? Bo ta di acuerdo cu e discripcion duna di nos funcion? Ami no ta completamente di acuerdo.

Un colega cu un posicion clave den enseñansa a harimi ora cu mi a bise'e cu esaki ta e oportunidad pa nos, esnan menos bon paga den enseñansa por subi di schaal of sikiera ricibi un aumento riba nos schaal pa tur loke nos funcion ta encera. Hopi hende ta kere cu scol preparatorio y basico ta encera menos trabou of ta mas "facil" cu otro tipo di enseñansa. Hopi ta kere cu "kleuterschool" ta e "bewaarschool" di antes. Ami personalmente no ta mira e motibo pa cual tin diferencia den pago entre nos di enseñansa basico y esnan di enseñansa secundario. Tur tipo di enseñansa tin su peso, su retonan ,su responsabilidad y experticio. Nos tur ta profesional cu a studia pa nos profecion cu ta riba nivel di HBO. (Den enseñansa preparatorio por tin algun maestro cu MBO, pero nan ta eherce e mesun trabou cu esnan cu HBO).

Un bon ehempel ta e exihencianan cu tin pa un maestro di enseñansa preparatorio cu no tin den ningun otro tipo di enseñansa: "Opruiming" di e clas prome cu vakantie, cu TUR alumno presente durante un siman PROME cu vakantie y "opstelling" di e clas DEN VAKANTIE un siman prome cu scol habri. Esaki ta sin menciona cu e mester test alumno por ehempel, e vroegrijpheidstest cu ta trabou specifico di un profesional y no di un kleuterleidster. E motibo? No tin suficiente profesional

Biniendo bek na e punto principal. Informa cerca bo directiva of cabesante tocante restructuracion salarial. Con e ta canando, kiko nan ta haciendo. Y wak si di berdad e "functieomschrijving" di bo persona como trabador ta corecto y completo.

Laga nos ta mas conciente di e desaroyonan aki pa e restructuracion salarial culmina den un forma corecto y satisfactorio.

Parlamentario mr. Xiomara Ruiz-Maduro (Fraccion MEP):

Ta un berguensa pa nos Pais cu nos Minister di Finanzas mes no sa unda e placa pa e trahadonan di Lotto ta presupuesta

For di basta dia caba e trahadonan di Lotto, sindicato Topa, mediador di Gobierno y e bestuur di Lotto ta buscando pa sa bou di cual post di e presupuesto di nos Pais, e placa pa paga e trahadonan di Lotto ta presupuesta. Ta un berguensa pa nos Pais cu ni sikiera nos Minister di Finanzas, kende mester por ta domina e cartera di finanzas publico, ainda no por mustra e empleadonan di Lotto preto riba blanco bou di cual post e placa pa nan salario ta presupuesta.

Ta conoci cu 27 trahado di Fundacion Lotto Pa Deporte mester bay over na Fundacion Facilidadnan Deportivo (FFD). E trahadonan a pidi e bestuur di Lotto pa mustra nan prueba cu nan salario na FFD ta sigura prome cu nan firma nan traslado pa FFD, pero te dia di awe nan no por a haya e prueba aki. E trahadonan a acudi na Minister di Finanzas pa un garantia di nan salario, pero e mandatario tampoco por a mustra nan na unda e 4.3 miyon ta presupuesta. Mediador di Gobierno cu a interveni den e caso aki, tampoco no sa na unda e placa ta. Ni sikiera e miembronan di e directiva di FFD sa na unda e placa ta pa paga salario di e trahadonan cu lo bay traha den e mesun FFD. Pues ta parce mane cu diripiente niun hende na Aruba, ni e propio Minister di Finanzas no sa bou di cual post e placa pa e trahadonan di Lotto ta presupuesta.

Na prome instante nos Minister di Finanzas a indica cu e placa lo ta poni bou di e post 152 den e Nota di Cambio di e Presupuesto di nos Pais pa 2012, pero e post aki ta concerni e departamento di drugsbestrijding y no tin nada di haber cu FFD. Despues nos Minister di Finanzas a purba saca su curpa y a menciona cu e placa ta bou di post 058, pero e post aki ta concerni e gastonan extra di auto, biahe y experto di e Ministerio di Minister Visser y tampoco no tin nada di haber cu FFD. Awor nos Minister di Finanzas ta bisa cu e placa ta bou di post 4600 di subsidio, pero e mandatario mes no por indica na unda exactamente e placa ta poni. Pues tur cos ta mustra cu e mesun Minister di Finanzas mes no sa unda e placa ta y cada bes cu e menciona un post, e ta menciona algo robes.

Mester remarca cu e ta un berguensa grandi pa nos Pais pa constata cu nos Minister di Finanzas mes no por indica correctamente unda e placa ta presupuesta pa e trahadonan di Lotto. Esaki ta un indicacion fuerte cu e mandatario aki no tin conocemento di finanzas publico y cu e no ta rondona su mes cu expertonan cu por yude maneha e cartera publico, siendo cu su ministerio ta gasta bastante placa di Pueblo pa paga experto pa yude goberna. Pesey e pregunta cu ta surgi ta, pakico nos ta paga tanto placa asina na expertonan aki, si nan mes no por mustra e Minister unda e placa ta? E situacion confuso aki ta pone cu e trahadonan di Lotto ta biba den un incertidumbre grandi cu ta bira pio awor cu Lotto kier hiba nan dilanti Hues pa kita nan for di trabou pa e simpel hecho cu nan a pidi un prueba cu nan salario ta presupuesta. Un acto sigur di mala fe di parti di Lotto y un situacion fastioso cu por a wordo evita si acaso nos Minister di Finanzas por tabata tin e experticio suficiente pa prueba na unda e 4.3 miyon pa e salario di e trahadonan di Lotto ta presupuesta.

Weganan di 50+ ta continua awe diaranson
